False Reports Germans At Work?

Two false reports are running like a prairie fire through Canada.

1. That the Executive Committee are high-salaried officials.

Answer.—None of the Executive Committee receives one cent of salary from the Red Cross funds.

2. That the Red Cross Society sells socks to the men in the trenches.

Answer.—Not a single article entrusted to the Red Cross Society is sold with the knowledge or consent of the Society. The Society has endeavored to follow up all stories of such sales but has hitherto entirely failed to find a single instance of a man who has bought a pair of socks or any other article from the Red Cross.

Red Cross goods are distributed in three ways only:

(a) To officers commanding Canadian medical hospitals for the use of their patients.

(b) To Canadian sick and wounded in hospital, by a system of parcels, under Lady Drummond.

(c) To Canadian prisoners of war by a system under Mrs. Rivers-Bulkeley and Miss Silkenmuir.

How is it possible for it to be true that the Red Cross is selling socks to the men in the trenches? Red Cross goods never go into the trenches; only to patients in hospital and prisoners of war.

With this our Commissioner was right when he called that such a report was "simply preposterous." Do the people of Canada really think that the Executive of the Red Cross, most of whom have near-revolutionary fallen or fighting at the front, are conspiring to rob the Canadian public on the one hand and the Canadian soldiers on the other?

We suspect these reports "to be the work of German Secret Service agents trying to injure Red Cross work."

Officers of The Active Militia of Canada

3. Post Office Address.

4. If they are ready to serve with troops assigned and billeted during the coming winter and ready to go overseas if required.

I have the honor to be, Sir, Your obedient servant,

E. A. CRUKSHANK, Colonel, Commanding Military District No. 13.

Important Case Settled

The case of Vasseur versus the C.P.R., in which action was taken for damages amounting to $5,000 for the loss of an infant's leg by being run over by a company train, was settled last week at Calgary, Vasseur securing several thousand dollars and the costs of the action. The accident occurred at Blairmore on or about November 14th, 1913. The Company at first made an offer of $100 and an artificial limb. Through Vasseur's solicitor, L. H. Putnam, a writ was issued against the Company in August, 1914. Since that time no further offers were made until the case was to come up at Maceled in May last. The case was further adjourned from Maceled to Calgary, where hearing was to take place this month. Over thirty witnesses were about to be subpoenaed by Mr Putnam in connection with the case, and some are of opinion that the C.P.R. came through because of insufficient rolling stock on its line for the transportation of Blairmoreites to the Alberta metropolis. George Walker acted as solicitor for the Company, and L. H. Putnam for Vasseur.

The Banner of The Red Cross

The privilege of fighting at the front,
under the folds and for the glory of the triple cross of Britain's war flag, is not for everybody. Only the pick of our manhood may aspire to that honor. But enlistment under the banner that should stand next to the Union Jack in our loyalty—the banner of the Red Cross—is open to all. None is too weak or poor to help in its upholding. From its service of mercy on every battlefield where our boys face wounds and death, there are no barriers of age or sex or sickness.

And there is a new call for recruits.
The work of relieving the sufferings of the wounded is heavier than could have been foreseen. The demand upon the funds of the Red Cross Society have consequently been overwhelming and prompt and heavy contributions are urgently needed. No work for humanity is better known or calls more loudly upon charity of every British subject at this time than the work of the Red Cross. To his appeal in the past, as well as in all the other calls upon their loyalty from every

source, the people of the community
have responded with wonderful generosity and there can be no doubt of their generosity now.—The Montreal Daily Star.

In Defence of One Who Has Gone to Fight For King and Country

Mr. Editor:-

Please allow me a small space in your paper to defend J. M. Carter, who left for the front about a month ago. It is my wish to show the public how a once popular man of Blairmore and whom the majority of the community have now little or no use for, could stoop so low as to stab a man in the back as soon as he was not here to defend himself. Scarcely had the train which carried J. M. Carter left Calgary by one hundred miles when this poor fool who calls himself a man

wrote the following—that Carter was a
"dead beat and lived on up his reputation." I myself think that Carter had more friends in The Pass today than this fellow (who holds a government job)
and it is the duty of Carter's friends to defend him. The same man may think himself mighty lucky that Carter is not in Canada today. If he is lucky enough to return he shall attend to him then.
What do the public think of such a man?
If all reports are true this is not the first dirty act he has done by a long way, but this time he got his own dose stirred on himself, as the letter which he wrote came back to Blairmore. It is high time for women's voices and get the likes of these "snickers" off their jobs. The life of this man would be in the proper place in the front line of trenches facing the enemy, so as to get all that is coming to him.

A PERSONAL FRIEND OF CARTER'S.

A Visit to The Provincial Red Cross Depot

On entering the Depot your attention is taken up with gazing at the number of busy workers, each at their allotted tables, with a Supervisor in each department.

At the first table all finished work is taken in, each article examined carefully and garments, etc., set up to the standard put on one side to be further examined by the Superintendent of Supplies, by whom they are turned over to another department for alteration. At this same table all cotton goods requiring washing are thrown into a laundry basket. A list of all finished work brought in is also kept at this table.

At the next two tables three electric irons are going almost continually, pressing all finished work, which is taken to the basement for shipping.

Going further along the Depot another three tables, women are cutting out all kinds of garments and tearing bandages—these are put on shelves and in cupboards, ready to be given out on Distributing Day (Wednesday), which is a very strenuous day at the Depot. These articles are also sent to auxiliaries and branches, where they do not do their own cutting or cannot procure goods suitable. On the other hand all branches are recommended to buy in their own towns as far as possible.

We still go on further along the Depot, where there are several sewing-machines, one at least being in use all the time, stitching over badly made garments or making slight alterations. At this end of the building all the stores are kept, such as—bolts of cotton, etc.

We retrace our steps again to the other end of the floor and proceed to the basement where all packing is done. On the walls around the basement are placards as follows—pajamas, shirts, socks, and so on—underneath each placard is a large packing case and as all the different articles are ironed and pressed on the floor above, they are brought to the basement and put in the packing cases. In the centre of the floor stands rows of boxes which are made at the Calgary box factory—all the same size—and in these the articles are packed for shipment to Toronto and from there on to England to be distributed to the different hospitals. The time from leaving this Depot to reach destination is about six weeks—they are carried free by the C.P.R., who prefer to have big shipments so as to take one whole car. The number of boxes thus sent vary from 50 to 70 every two weeks from the Red Cross Depot. In the basement is also a large box for all the clippings—these are sold each week and are used in making paper.

We now go up to the third floor, where the busy click of the typewriter can be heard. Two stenographers are working at their hardest—one for the Secretary-Treasurer, and the other for the Superintendent of Supplies. A third is really needed as the work is increasing daily. In another room on this floor are the samples and patterns of all articles the Society makes. It is here that all the heads of groups get the orders for supplies which is then taken to the middle floor to be filled. In another room on the third floor is the office where all books are kept, also a record of how many articles have had to be altered from each branch and these are kept as a check on the accuracy of the above. This is not only kept in the Provincial Depot, but every record is forwarded to Toronto.

When a shipment is made, headquarters know the different branches that have contributed, and what, and how much.

One cannot help thinking what a band of patriotic women they are who work here from 9.30 a.m. to 6 p.m., some never even leaving the Depot for lunch, only having sandwiches to break the fast. The only salaries paid for workers in the Depot are for one stenographer, one woman altering garments, and one woman who assigns up and looks after the heating.

I should advise anyone going to Calgary to visit the Red Cross Depot. You will be made welcome and will also get a larger insight into the work that is being carried on for our boys.

The Calgary Red Cross Convalescent Home is another great feature and in the near future shall be flying the Red Cross flag. It has 64 rooms and as everything that could be wished for in the shape of a home for the boys—there are men and women, some suffering from rheumatism and pneumonia, etc. Thirty more are in hospital in Calgary and will later go to the Home. There are two orderlies who clean the place, a woman cook and helper in the kitchen, a matron and nurse. The Calgary Branch Red Cross Society is giving her services free of charge. The nurse for the winter have been donated, also some food and coal, one from Canmore and one from West Canadian, Blairmore. Butter and eggs are very much needed. Garments, etc., for the men are supplied by the Calgary Branch also including cigarettes and tobacco. They have a pool-room, bowling alley and several other games, also books and magazines. The men have breakfast at 8 a.m., dinner at 12.30 and supper at 5 p.m., then recreation at 8 p.m.—lights out at 9.30 p.m. As yet there are no returned soldiers, but are expecting some almost any day. The home is visited each day by a doctor. There is a House committee of ladies and an Outside committee of gentlemen. Any one can spend a pleasant hour in the Home if they have the time to spare.

The Stinky Man

His fame is dingy—the man who's stinky—men greet him with a frown: "He's always pinching the nickels clinking, the ditty-daw of the town. He's never willing to give a shilling when we pass round the hat, to give some pauper a meal that's proper, or treat some widows flat. He lives to collar the large round dollar, with coin to dine and sup; he's tight as blazes; no honest phrases can make him loosen up." Yet some are saying, "He's good at paying his bills right up on time; he asks no credit—he seems to dread it—he owes no man a dime!" And some who blame him and try to shame him as one old tipsy wail out, are cheerful fakers who owe the bakes and grocers for their grub. I hold it wiser to be a miser, and pinch coin till it bleeds, than one who wanders round and squanders the coin his butcher needs. I hold it cleaner to eat stale wieners and save three moldy cents, than be a glutton on stand-om, like some half-fellow gent.

Socks! Socks! Socks!

A Million or Billion of Socks

You hear Tommy's call—it reaches us all, from that terrible place called the front.

We sit here at ease, as safe as you please, while Tommy is bearing the brunt. So we cannot ignore his petition for more of our Socks! Socks! Socks!

Socks! Socks! Socks! Don't buy any more party frocks—
The men worth your while are now rank and file, so buy yarn with the money and knit.

Don't loiter up town, go home and sit down, and get busy at doing your bit. Give up nickle shoes to diemen heels and toes, and knit Socks! Socks! Socks!

Socks! Socks! Socks! Young ladies, 'twill save you some shocks;
If you just realize that Tommy is wise to this question regarding his love.

When he's through with the strife, and comes home for a wife, he'll make sure ere he goes to propose.

That the girl of his heart in the war did her part knitting Socks! Socks! Socks!

Socks! Socks! Socks! And a woman can knit as she talks!
It sure would appear that the day's drawing near, for the quick march and charge on Berlin.

If your boy's to get there in your own special pair, why now you had better begin.

His heart will be light if his feet are all right in your Socks! Socks! Socks!

Socks! Socks! Socks! While the world with its war-thunder rocks!
Our brave soldier boys, in the smoke and the noise, must suffer some ills we can't cure.

But each one may clothe the feet of a man—there's no one too slow or too poor.

And while that's to do, let us all turn to, and knit Socks! Socks! Socks!
